An Invitation to GASCO Corporate Membership:

GASCO would like to extend an invitation to you to become a 2023 Corporate Member.

Even with the challenges over the last two difficult years of COVID-19 and contact restrictions, our Corporate Members have shown their willingness to find innovative ways of partnering with GASCO to continue to serve the Georgia Cancer Care Community. We have been tested like never before, but our collective response was a tribute to the sacrifice and resilience of over 1,000 GASCO members, their practices, and our industry supporters in meeting the immediate needs of patients in extraordinary times.

GASCO continues to build on our solid reputation as one of the top organizations of its kind and an innovative and effective organization which continues to grow in membership and meeting attendance. GASCO's leadership and administrative teams are located in Georgia and understand the day-to-day issues faced by our members. GASCO will continue to monitor events and trends to remain a relevant resource of information, advocacy, and assistance to our membership and to the cancer care community in general.

GASCO's Board of Directors represent leaders in there in their communities at the local and academic level. We have achieved GASCO's success through the key concepts of innovation, collaboration, communication, and education. We returned to live meetings in the second half of 2022 and given the excellent attendance and program at our recent GASCO Annual Meeting and ASCO Direct™ Highlights held August 26th and 27th, it was evident everyone was ready for a face-to-face experience.

A chart of available Corporate Memberships and associated benefits is attached. We have not increased our funding requirements for our Corporate Memberships for 2023. Our main educational offerings for 2023 are included in all Corporate Memberships, as noted:

- GASCO's Best of the San Antonio Breast Cancer Symposium®
Stay tuned for a possible expansion to a regional breast cancer program next winter.
- GASCO's Annual Meeting and Licensed ASCO Highlights™ Direct
- GASCO's Annual Administrators' Association and Business of Oncology Meeting

Our educational collaborations with Georgia CORE and the state medical schools are aimed toward providing less duplication on content while allowing each part of the team to contribute based on their core competencies. This has provided more robust meetings for all our constituents as well as success in the research and translational fields. In 2022, we began projects focused on assessing barriers to clinical trials by underserved communities in Georgia and creating educational or clinical responses to our findings, an area of interest to our Corporate Members.

As a 501(c)(6) organization GASCO conducts advocacy efforts on both a local and national basis. GASCO has Board and other members involved with legislation affecting the delivery and financing of cancer care. We have Board Members in leadership and advisory positions on ASCO's Board, advisory committees, and their Governmental Relations Committee. We have also been active on the task force to write, amend and implement the Georgia Comprehensive Cancer Control Plan and participate in the American Cancer Society's Lung Cancer Roundtable. GASCO maintains a full-time State Lobbyist to support GASCO's policy initiatives in Georgia.

Please review the attached chart of offerings for GASCO'S Corporate Members. GASCO has updated its website (www.gasco.us) and added links to our Corporate Members' patient assistance and support programs. We've also added a new webpage for posting our Corporate Members' FDA drug and new indication approvals. These benefits are available to all levels of Corporate Membership, except exhibitors (Level IV corporate members).

We hope that this letter provides you with a picture of why GASCO brings high value to corporate member collaborations not common in other State oncology societies. We look forward to working with you to continue the positive trajectory of service to cancer patients.

We look forward to the opportunity to have you as a GASCO Corporate Member in 2023.

Sincerely,

Peter F. Lyle, Sr.
